Conferring of Titles, Graduate Awards & Presidential Address

Synopsis: This event is a highlight of the Cork Region calendar. The agenda for the evening is as follows:

- Conferring of the titles of Associate Engineers, Chartered Engineer and Fellow on members from the Cork Region
- Awards Ceremony at which presentations will be made to the top graduates from CIT and UCC Engineering Degree classes of 2015
- Presidential Address by the President of Engineers Ireland, Bill Grimson entitled “Engineering: A Challenging and Challenged Profession”
- Drinks Reception

This event will offer members and their guests an opportunity to celebrate the achievement of Cork Engineers. In his Presidential address, Bill poses some questions he feels the profession must answer. The address will:

- Examine the ‘grand challenges’ of engineering
- Reflect on some contemporary thoughts by non-engineers on today’s challenges
- Consider the extent to which Ireland might make a contribution to addressing the challenges
- Discuss why lobbying can be so destructive and
- Consider whether an ‘ideal engineer’ can exist

Date/ Time: Tuesday, 5th April at 20:00
